

Miguel Garrido Iglesias

I'm an open-minded guy with a travelling spirit, currently traveling around the world.

I studied computer engineering at Universidad Tecnica Federico Santa Maria in Valparaiso, Chile. After five years, I decided to start my own journey doing web development in different environments such as design agencies, IT and marketing companies. The combination of these experiences means that I am not only proficient, but passionate about good user experience and web development. Also contributing to my ability is an appetite for learning. This is how I like my work and life to be.

EDUCATION

2005-2010 - Computer Engineering
Technical University Federico Santa María,
Valparaiso, Chile. <http://www.usm.cl/en/>

SKILLS & ABILITIES

Front-end & Back-end development: I often use html, css, javascript and php. I like jquery, sass and I love Wordpress. I appreciate documented APIs. I often work coding out of indesign, photoshop or illustrator.

Analysis & Design: I love getting involved in projects from the very start; designing interfaces, drawing mockups, writing use-cases or simple drafts.

INTERESTS & ACTIVITIES

I'm always looking forward to new adventures and meeting new people. On my spare I practice yoga, I study massage, reflexology and I play percussion. I like to ride my push bike.
