Miguel Garrido Iglesias

I'm a Web Developer currently living in Barcelona, Spain.

I studied computer engineering at Universidad Tecnica Federico Santa Maria in Valparaiso, Chile. After 5 years of study I decided to start my own journey doing web development in different environments such as design agencies, IT and marketing companies. The combination of these experiences means that I am not only proficient, but passionate about good UI and web development. Also contributing to my ability is an appetite for learning. This is how I like my work and life to be.

EDUCATION

2005-2010 - Computer Engineering

Technical University Federico Santa María,

Valparaiso, Chile.

SKILLS & ABILITIES

Front-end & Back-end development: I do Web Design & Web Development. My stack includes HTML, Javascript, CSS and PHP. I like using different frameworks, tasks managers and CMS such as Wordpress, Shopify, Vue.js, Sass or Webpack. I care about functionality as much as well working design.

Analysis & Design: I love getting involved in projects from the very start; designing interfaces, drawing mockups, writing use-cases or simple drafts.

INTERESTS & ACTIVITIES

I'm always looking forward to new adventures and meeting new people. On my spare I practice yoga and I play percussion. I often ride my push bike and I like growing food.

WORK HISTORY

2016 - Freelance Web Developer

I currently freelance at Scratch Design in New Zealand and at other small businesses and organisations around the world.
